1. Attached please find a summary of the DCI's Threat to Intelligence Community Automated Information Systems and Networks 1988-1989, which, as I mentioned to you on the phone on 9/22, is not yet coordinated among the NFIB members, approved, or signed by the DCI. Therefore, please keep this document very closely held; I will call you as soon as it is releasable. I don't expect any substantive changes to be made as a result of the coordination process.

2. In our previous conversations, I have referred to this document as Threat III, since we published Threats I and II in recent years. Because this version of the threat is going out to the contractor community for the first time this year, however, I decided to call it Threat 1988-1989 to avoid the many phone calls that I would doubtless get from industry wanting to get copies of Threats I and II, which are marked NOCONTRACTOR. FOIA requests are not my favorite way to pass the day.

3. If you have any questions, please call me on [redacted] Thanks. [redacted]
